Marine corps jrotc logo images

In November 1775, the United States Marine Corps was established to strengthen naval forces in the War of Independence. The recruitment headquarters was created by Captain Samuel Nicholas at the Tun Tavern on Water Street in Philadelphia, which is considered to be the birthplace of the Marines. After success in many campaigns, the corps was abolished at the end of the War of Independence because of economics. On July 17, 1798, Congress ordered the creation of the Corps, called it the United States Marine Corps, and ordered that it be available for service under the Secretary of the Navy. The Corps celebrated its birthday, or Marine Corps Day, on July 11th from 1799 to 1921 when the date was permanently changed to November 10 to celebrate the creation of the Corps to help in the War of Independence. The day is still observed by US Marines around the world. Special exhibitions, parades, drill team performances, and speeches usually mark the occasion. The birthday ball, culminating in the cutting of the birthday cake, is held that night in Washington, D.C. It is not possible to determine exactly when the first cake ceremony was held, but the first on record took place at Marine Barracks, Washington, D.C., in 1937. Major General Thomas Holcomb, the commander, presided in an open house for Marine Corps officers, including cutting a large cake in the form of the Tun Tavern. Picture: Shutterstock Marines is not just any branch of the military, it's the ELITE fighting force in the United States. When you meet someone who's a Marine or who's a Marine, you immediately know you're in the presence of someone who doesn't mess around. Being a member of the Marines is no joke. Even being a private in the Marine Corps, which is the lowest ranked level, you are someone who is a force to be reckoned with, but rising up the ranks is even tougher. It takes a lot of discipline and a lot of patience to become an officer. If you're not looking to be an officer or even a private in the Marines, it's not an insult.
